IMPORTANT
How to hand score card stock before folding.

The easiest (and nicest!) way to fold thick paper, is by scoring the piece to be folded first. You will need a butter knife and a ruler.

Take a ruler and place it on the cardstock, over the line you would like to score. Using the smooth edge of the knife (and never the sharp side), press down firmly as you move along the length of the ruler and down the paper. The more pressure you exert, the deeper the score will be. Do this two or three times, test first on a blank piece of card stock.
When finished, simply remove the ruler and your cardstock is ready to be folded.

Or use the hobby knife instead of the butter knife. With the help of a ruler, cut VERY SLIGHTLY (don´t apply pressure!) the cardstock as you move (once) along the length of the ruler and down the paper. Just the top layer of the cardstock should be cutted. Then fold.
Piece 1: Using a butter knife and a ruler, score the card stock on the three folding lines.
